Bristol Area Down's Syndrome Support

Infant feeding and autoimmunity in Down Syndrome

Stuart Mills from the DSA has asked whether we have any families that can help with some research.

Professor Julian Hamilton-Shield would like input from some mums in the Bristol area for the initial design of a study looking at Infant feeding and autoimmunity in Down Syndrome. In particular, Professor Hamilton-Shield is looking for personal experience that will help guide the design of the section of the study which explores 'maternal expectations and barriers to breast feeding in infants with DS

If you would like to take part or offer some input please contact
